

Objections to Taxation

Soame Jenyns, a member of Parliament, wrote this pamphlet, The Objections to the Taxation of our American Colonies by the Legislature of Great Britain, in 1765. Jenyns defended Parliament's right to tax the colonies. He believed that members of Parliament spoke for all the king's subjects and not only for those who had elected them.