

Koran

Thomas Jefferson had this volume, an English translation of the Koran, in his library at Monticello. In his catalog of books, Jefferson put the Koran in the section on "Religion," a category that also included his books on ancient mythology and the Christian Bible.