

Cipher of Lord's Prayer

As secretary of state and later as president, Jefferson experimented with cryptography, or secret writing. To keep his political enemies from reading his letters and other documents, Jefferson invented and used several codes. This one was based on the Lord's Prayer.