

Virgil's Aeneid

This Latin edition of Virgil bears the signatures of both Thomas Jefferson and his close friend Dabney Carr. The two men met as students at a Latin school in Albemarle County, and they later attended college together at William and Mary. The classics were an essential part of a gentleman's education in eighteenth-century America.