

Jefferson to Destutt de Tracy

Jefferson's university, as this letter shows, would spread Enlightenment ideas and values. The Treatise on Political Economy written by his correspondent—translated by Jefferson in 1817—and Montesquieu's Spirit of the Laws would be core texts. Jefferson hoped to promote liberty and progress in Virginia and provide an educational model for others.