

Jefferson to Charles William Frederick Dumas

In this letter, Thomas Jefferson, the American minister to France, assures Charles Dumas, a European who aided the Americans throughout the American Revolution, that the Philadelphia convention would produce a strong plan for moving the country forward. Jefferson was especially impressed by the delegates' great talents and abilities.