

An Examination into the Leading Principles of the Federal Constitution

Noah Webster wrote this essay to support the constitution produced by the recent convention in Philadelphia. Critics condemned the constitution's plan for a strong central government, which seemed to endanger liberty. Webster disagreed. He saw education and property ownership as the main bases American liberties and rights.