

Jefferson to Richard Price

Jefferson wrote this letter shortly after his return home after spending nearly five years in Europe . He observed that the recent adoption of the new federal Constitution—which he approved—was further proof that well-informed citizens could be trusted to govern themselves.