

To Be Sold

Colonial newspapers frequently published advertisements announcing slave auctions. The enslaved people mentioned in this advertisement were captured on the west coast of Africa, a region that provided a significant proportion of slaves to the New World.