

Benjamin Church's Boston Massacre Oration

In 1773, Benjamin Church, a prominent Boston physician, was chosen to deliver the second annual oration to commemorate the Boston Massacre. Church warned his fellow colonists about British attacks on American liberties and urged them to stand firm in defense of their rights. The oration helped keep the cause of resistance alive in Massachusetts.