

Charleston Non-Importation Agreement

This 1769 document is an agreement in which the residents of Charleston agreed to boycott all goods imported from England. In protest against British policies, residents agreed to produce their own manufactured goods or purchase American-made goods. They also agreed to stop importing African slaves which were bought and sold by British merchants.