

40th Annual Naturalization Keynote

In this July 4 naturalization ceremony speech at Monticello, author Frank McCourt shares his love for America and its diversity. This love for America drove him to move back to New York after spending much of his childhood in Ireland. He explains how, in the wake of September 11, 2001, he witnessed an outpouring of the same kind of love demonstrated by those helping to rescue and rebuild.