

Animals of Monticello

While walking through the plantation grounds, you see a wide range of animals that are used for work on the farm and for the materials they can provide to the plantation. Roll the dice to see which animal you see first and will be recording in your field journal.

